

The excitement under the balls was great
Who is going to get to the final?
A soccer ball new and unused
Was neither dirty nor dirty

He said: "Why do you want to go there just see how beautiful I am and look at worn out how it can be done.

Bumped and rolled
If nobody wants you long
You will be beheaded and shot
That everything can hurt you.

From front to back, from back to front
You should only ever go into the gate.
You're almost there, you don't believe it
Box them in the face. "

A soccer ball old and used
Every black dot now smokes.
"You don't know what you're missing
but you already hate it!

Nobody likes to give you away
Everyone even wants you very much
You will be pushed and rolled
Because every team wanted you

To decide big games

And avoid losing that.

There is hope and happiness in you

Every kick hopes for a piece

Cheers cheer wherever you go

Because you only stand for the winner

If you made the crucial goal

The greatest cheers are for you. “

The door opens, the balls are silent

Because everyone wants to be the important one.

The man reaches for the new ball

Then he goes out, the disappointment follows.

He steps in bright sunshine

Straight into the stadium.

Cheers crowds, people roar

Benches fill in the stadium.

You expect a lot from this ball

Because he's the one in the final game.
